

Annual Conference 2017

5 - 7 April - York

Lifelong Learning: Local, Regional, International?

Research, Policy and Practice

- keynote presentations: national and international perspectives on current issues
- seminar/workshops and poster sessions on research, policy, practice and innovative projects
- opportunity for networking and sharing experiences
- Conference Dinner including book launch, UALL awards ceremony

The Conference will be of particular interest to policy makers, senior management, academic providers and administrators in lifelong learning both nationally and internationally as well as those working in any aspect of higher education or community learning.

Key themes for the conference will include:

- Promoting development through lifelong learning which enhances local and regional development
- Promoting understanding and dialogue through formal and non-formal learning for a global society
- Developing sustainable partnerships for economic and social development: local, national and global
- Developing a local curriculum which is international in outlook

For further details contact Lucy Bate at: admin@uall.ac.uk; Tel: 01661 822 185; www.uall.ac.uk
Please make sure your colleagues know of this event and put the dates in your diary.

Call for Papers and Proposals

The UALL Conference has a reputation for offering opportunities for practitioners and researchers to present their work to the academic community. Proposals are invited on any of the strands of the conference theme. They may describe and discuss innovative developments and practice, and/or empirical or theoretical research. You are encouraged to take into account your own working context when submitting your proposals. Proposals are welcome from those working in different countries and learning contexts.

Please send your proposal of no more than 300 words by 30 November 2016 to Lucy Bate at admin@uall.ac.uk

Presenters will have the opportunity to submit full papers for consideration for publication. A selection of the Conference papers will be published in a special issue of the international journal Widening Participation and Lifelong Learning (Open University).

If your proposal is accepted, and if you wish to be considered for publication, you will be asked to provide a working draft of your paper by 31st March 2017.

