

ACE 2014 LIFELONG LEARNING SEMINARS

When	Wednesday 16 April (Dr Rob Mark — Lifelong Learning in Scotland and Contemporary Europe) AND Monday 12 May (Professor Mike Osborne — Learning to be a Lifelong Learner: Three things I have learnt) 4.30-6.30pm
Where	Griffith University, Mt Gravatt Campus, Messines Ridge Road, Brisbane, QLD BUILDING M15, Room 3_13 (Video-Conference to Griffith University, Gold Coast Campus, Parklands Drive, Southport, QLD BUILDING G23, Room 3_01)

Regular Price	$0.00 (Please register for catering and indicate in Comments which venue you are attending)
----------------------	--

Member Price	$0.00 (Please register for catering and indicate in Comments which venue you are attending)
---------------------	--

Contact	ACE National Office 1800 208 586 OR (E) ace@austcolled.com.au
----------------	---

Conducted in partnership between

Learning to love learning throughout our lifespan (and across lifewide ages and stages) is something that inspires us to become more versatile, accomplished, sociable, empowered and to achieve well being. This is something we also facilitate within those we teach, instruct, tutor and assist as educators, whether formally or informally.

The Australian College of Educators is developing a lifelong learning policy. Nations are realising that it is a culture of lifelong learning which is an indispensable investment in educational sustainability, social cohesion and citizenship to enhance greater awareness, self-motivation, knowledge and action.

Join with us as two eminent international academics offer their expertise to us in conducting timely seminars while in Brisbane (to be video-conferenced to the Gold Coast), on matters at the forefront of developing contexts for lifelong learning outreach across the environments and communities in which we work.

*Denise M Reghenzani (Kearns) PhD
President – Brisbane Metropolitan Regional Group*

- Wednesday 16 April 2014, Dr Rob Mark, Head—Centre for Lifelong Learning, Strathclyde University (The UK Entrepreneurial University and The UK University of the Year 2013/14), Editor of the "Irish Journal of Adult and Community Education" and former Chair of Ethics:
<http://www.strath.ac.uk/cll/staff/markrobindr/>

Lifelong Learning in Scotland and Contemporary Europe—examining the recent policy contexts in Scotland and the European Union, demonstrating the growing tension which exists between promoting lifelong learning for the needs of the economy and the broader goals of personal development, education for citizenship, and tackling social exclusion.

Register: Online—free, please indicate the Seminar/s being attended and at what venue/s. Numbers are required for refreshments

<http://austcolled.com.au/event/ace-2104-lifelong-learning-seminars-wednesday-16-april-2014-dr-rob-mark>

- Monday 12 May 2014, Professor Michael Osborne, Chair—Adult & Lifelong Learning, Director—Centre for Research and Development in Adult and Lifelong Learning (CR&DALL), Co-director—Research Cluster in Social Justice, Place and Lifelong Education, and Co-director—PASCAL International Observatory on Place Management, Social Capital and Learning Regions, The University of Glasgow; Advisor to the UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning with its development of the International Platform for Learning Cities:
<http://www.gla.ac.uk/schools/education/staff/michaelosborne/>

Learning to be a Lifelong Learner: Three things I have learnt—including 'what it means to be a lifelong learner' looking at metacognition, self-directedness, information literacy and entrepreneurship. Can these be measured, taught and developed?

Register: Online—free, please indicate the Seminars being attended and at what venue/s. Numbers are required for refreshments

<http://austcolled.com.au/event/ace-2104-lifelong-learning-seminars-monday-12-may-2014-professor-michael-osborne>

- 4.30 pm Refreshments and Welcome
- 5.00 pm Seminar (30-45 mins)
- 5.45 pm Questions on Presentation
- 6.00 pm Comments and Further Discussions
- 6.30 pm Close of Proceedings with Appreciation