Let me introduce myself before presenting you the Tenth International Summer Senior University which takes place yearly in Majorca (Spain).

My name is PhD Carmen Orte, I'm Chair Professor in Education in the Pedagogy and Didactics Department belonging to the University of the Balearic Islands in which I am vice director.

As founder of the Open University for seniors 18 years ago, I have been working closely with seniors and, jointly with GIFES a research team with many years' experience in this field; we have developed an international summer university specifically designed for this collective, it is the Summer Senior University.

During one week in September, we offer participants the opportunity to exchange experiences with other European seniors as well as to spread the culture and values of the Balearic Islands all with a common language: English.

This year we launched the Tenth edition which will be about “The Magic of Travelling” (From 3th to 9th Septiembre 2017). As in previous editions we expect to receive around 50 senior students from all Europe (England, Germany, Poland, Sweden, Portugal, Spain...).
