

School of Education 2021 Webinar Series: Celebrating Social Justice Research in Education

Migration and Refugee Education: 3 March 2021, from 1300-1430 GMT

Join us for fourth of five exciting events that focus on key issues in educational research. The focus of this webinar is research at intersections between culture, literacies, inclusion and pedagogy, notably in regions of conflict, and through a focus on the arts, children's literature and literacies. It considers work of the following projects and investigators.

RESEARCHING MULTILINGUALLY
AT THE BORDERS OF LANGUAGE, THE BODY, LAW AND THE STATE

Researching Multilingually at Borders (Professor Alison Phipps). This large-scale international comparative research project funded by the UK's Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC) considers translation and interpretation at different kinds of border developed theory, ethical research practices and research methodologies in relation to multilingual research.

MIDEQ: Migration for development and equality (Dr Tawona Sitole and Dr Gameli Tordzo). MIDEQ is a large-scale Global Challenges Research Fund (GCRF) hub funded by UK Research and Innovation (UKRI). It aims to transform understanding of the relationship between migration and inequality in the context of the Global South by decentering the production of knowledge about migration and its consequences away from the Global North towards those countries where most migration takes place.

Educational Peace Building in Acapulco and Medellin (Professor Evelyn Arizpe and Dr Sinead Gormally). This project is funded by the British Academy via the GCRF. It seeks to create a detailed understanding of the infrastructure, engagement, resources and policies required to educationally transform a community in order to contribute to reducing the negative impacts of drug-related violence and crime.

Culture for Sustainable and Inclusive Peace Network Plus (CUSP N+) (Dr Giovanna Fassetta and Dr Maria Grazia Imperiale). This work is funded through the AHRC as part of the GCRF Collective Programme. CUSP N+'s aim is to strengthen arts and cultural institutions or organisations in LMICs so they can become a reference point for the identification and transformation of social conflict.

There will follow a panel response, and all those who join the webinar will be able to pose questions to the speakers and panel. Everyone is welcome to join us; to register please go to the following site:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/migration-and-refugee-education-tickets-132829948953>

Full details and instructions for joining will be circulated post registration.

We look forward to your participation.